At least a nickel better was paid for the large end of the sale hogs yesterday. The receipts were a little better than those of the Saturday before, while the quality was about the same. The average weight was higher than Friday, but the grade was a falling off. For Saturday it was a very fair day, there being evi-denced an activity not usual for the closing day of the week. There was a good sipping business of accumulated hogs and all went out last night for their des tination, having been purchased the past few days. The demand was good yes-terday from all quarters, and had more bogs come in of a good sound butcher grade, they would have been snapped up at once. The whole week showt at the close a very satisfactory situation, both in volume of receipts and quality. The average weight for the week just gone shows II pounds better and the receipts gone week in the comparison. From March 1 the total to 135,000 the preceding week, and 25,000 two weeks ago. It is also suggestive of the fact that the new crop of marketable fat hogs is already reop of marketable lat hogs is already commencing to move, and from universal reports from all the regular shippers there will this coming season be a very good supply of slaughter hogs. Yesterday was a little unusual in that the market on the closing day was higher than the day before, instead of sagging by its own weight, as it has so often done on this day. New York, Oct. 1.-The monetary situation during the week, while distinctively easier, nevertheless failed to arouse outside interest in the market and trading continued in the hands of the room professionals. Operations in various channels are necessarily restricted owing to the current rates for funds, but trade reports from divergent centers show at almost general expansion. Another circumstance that contributed to check pub He buying was the violent speculation in the industrials. These stocks exerted a dominating influence on general sentiment and liquidation was very marked. The "Street" was from time to time with cirproducts are accepted as the standard of perfection right here where they are made, but that this one brand alone has merits recognized as beyond the attempt to imitate.
